

TISA NEWS BRIEFING

Post-Brexit 2021 UK political timeline

What happens next?
14th January 2021

Brought to you in partnership with cicero/amo

strategic advisors

Dear TISA Member,

I am delighted to share our latest TISA News Briefing, brought to you in partnership with our PR agency, Cicero/AMO.

After years of missed deadlines and fraught negotiations, the EU-UK Trade and Cooperation Agreement (TCA) was agreed on Christmas Eve, with the UK formally exiting the transition period on 31 December 2020.

The Prime Minister has repeatedly highlighted the opportunities of the UK's new-found freedoms, but the question on everyone's lips is: what happens next?

The document below seeks to answer this question. It sets out No.10's economic and business priorities for the rest of the Parliamentary term - from realising the opportunities of deregulation post-Brexit to 'building back better' post COVID-19 - and includes a timeline of key dates throughout 2021.

Click here to view Cicero/AMO's 2021 UK Political Timeline - What happens next?

More on this at TISA's Post-Brexit Virtual Forum

Cicero/AMO will also be speaking at the TISA Post-Brexit Forum on 25th March - details of which can be seen here.

You can read more about how TISA is leading the UK financial services industry in building cross border standards and facilitating seamless cross border digital trading post-Brexit in our latest press release here.

We hope you find our TISA News Briefings useful. Don't forget, all employees of TISA member firms are eligible to receive these briefings, as well as access other member-only content and resources. If your colleagues would like to sign-up for a free TISA member account, they can do so here.

If you want to get in touch about anything featured in this issue, please reply to this email.

Best regards,

David Dalton-Brown

Chief Executive Officer

The Investing and Saving Alliance (TISA) | www.tisa.uk.com
